Short description

I gained my first stage experience at a musical school, where I was able to combine singing, dancing, and acting. This was followed by several roles as an extra in film productions, which allowed me to become familiar with the on-set workflow and gain valuable insight into professional work in front of the camera. I also had the opportunity to work as a stunt double in the production Brennero. In addition, I completed an acting training program under the direction of Katja Lechthaler.
