Short description

I have worked on documentary productions for SKY's "Caccia & Pesca" channel and on socially oriented documentaries for several production companies. I have also worked several times as assistant director on independent and medium-sized productions, including the web-series "Non voglio mica la luna" funded by the Marche Film Commission. I believe I am a valuable asset in the directing environment, and I believe that the opportunity to work alongside experienced authors and/or within medium to large productions can be a chance for growing.
