

RACCONTI | IDM Script Lab Terms and Conditions

Please read the general terms and specific requirements carefully.

Who can apply?

1. The RACCONTI IDM Script Lab is open to professional and emerging screenwriters, directors, and producers.
2. For the purposes of this call, professional/emerging screenwriters and directors shall mean:
 - Writers who are or were employed in the production of a full-length or short feature film
 - Writers whose material has already been filmed
 - Writers whose material has already been optioned by production companies and/or broadcasting stations
 - Directors with screenwriting experience
 - Screenwriting or film graduates from film schools and/or alternative educational institutions
3. General eligibility is ultimately decided based on the CV and filmography of the candidates.
4. Applicants must be at least 18 years old at the time of application.
5. Projects that were already submitted at a previous edition will not be accepted.
6. All applicants must have a very good command of the English language, since the RACCONTI | IDM Script Lab will be held in English and the writing process will be performed in English, too.
7. Applications that do not meet the formal requirements will not be considered.
8. Projects must apply with a production company or producer attached.
9. Participation in the RACCONTI | IDM Script Lab does not imply an automatic right to any further collaboration with IDM Südtirol on the respective film project after the conclusion of the program.
10. Writers applying declare that they hold all the rights to the submitted proposal and that nothing in the writer's proposal infringes the copyright or any other right of any third party.
11. Intellectual Property: All rights to any concepts developed by the writers/directors during the workshop will remain with the writer. A potential transfer of rights will be specifically agreed in a contract between the writer and the respective production company.

What does it cost?
